District Crop Damage May Be High If Rains Continue

Wet Weather Threatens to Ruin Harvest

8 inches Recorded This Month; Year '41 Had Wettest July

Hopes of farmers stimulated by reports of excellent bumper crops of grain have turned to discouragement as continual wet weather prevents the harvest of small grain crops in Mahoning and Columbiana counties.

One Mahoning County farm wife remarked to a county agent that: farmers several weeks ago could laugh at the rains, but today wet weather has become a "deadly serious" problem.

The problem is an estimated $175,000 possible loss in farm income due to wheat, oats and barley standing wet in area fields while farmers pray that dry weather will soon break.

This estimate is based on statewide predictions that approximately 9 per cent of the crops in the state are being adversely affected by rains.

Potential Damage
Mahoning County Farm Agent William Phillips estimated that approximately $750,000 damage is resulting to crops in that county because of delay in harvesting.

In Columbiana County the figure may run close to one million dollars because of the larger acreage planted in oats, corn and wheat.

Floyd Lower, Columbiana County agriculture agent, said that the one-million dollar figure could be possible. Both county agents agree that it is extremely difficult at this time to arrive at an accurate figure on possible losses.

Mr. Lower explained that crop damage will not be too bad if the fields dry out to permit combines to operate. But if the rainy weather continues, there will be trouble.

The weather outlook for today and Saturday calls for more rain. Nearly 8 inches of rain.

Edwin Copeland, weather observer at Millport, said already 7.96 inches of rain have fallen this month. However, he added, so far it isn't the wettest July on record.

Copeland recalled that in July, 1941, a total of 10.15 inches of rain fell. Even the summer two years ago was wetter and caused more damage than this one has so far. "We had dry weather going into harvest this summer; in 1956 it rained continually prior to the harvest."

The weather observer noted that "We were minus 11 inches of rain in the last 18 months until the first of May when rain began to fall often."

Danger of damage to the oats crop is greater than it is to wheat, Copeland observed.

Pedestrian Signal Buttons Installed

Push-button boxes for pedestrians at the intersections of S. Lundy Ave. with E. State and E. Pershing Sts. went into operation yesterday.

Signs above the boxes tell pedestrians what to do when waiting to cross streets at these points. Mayor Harold Smith said. The boxes have been installed along with two radar controlled traffic systems on S. Lundy.

Pedestrians are to cross with the green light only, the mayor said. The light will remain green to east and west bound traffic on the two streets until traffic on Lundy or pedestrians change the light, he said.

Acting Police Chief Forney said violators will be punished if they do not obey the signs on the push-button boxes when crossing the street. A policeman will be on duty when available, at Lundy and State, Forney said to assist pedestrians in getting used to the new system.

15 Beauties Vie For 'Miss Universe'

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Miss U. S. A. and 14 foreign beauties remained today in the contest for the throne of Miss Universe.

Thirty-five girls held the same hopes Thursday night. But judges slashed the field, and 20 girls, some weeping bitterly, were dropped from the beauty pageant.

Seeking the crown tonight will be: Miss U. S. A. — Euryline Howell, 18, Bossier City, La.; and The Misses Brazil, Chile, Colombia, Denmark, Germany, Greece, Hawaii, Holland, Israel, Japan, Peru, Poland, Surinam and Sweden.

The winners were announced before an audience of 4,000 at Long Beach Municipal Auditorium after the 35 appeared individually before the judges, first in bathing suits and then in formal gowns.

Miss Mexico, Elvira Rissler, 19, of Mexico City, fled the scene still in her bathing suit with tears streaming from her eyes.

Miss Uruguay, Graciela Scorza, 18, of Asuncion, wept so hard she couldn't stand. She sat on a bench crying until her chaperone quieted her sobs with cups of cold water and words of comfort.

Thursday night's lucky 15 will be the ones to go through the emotional wringer tonight. Their numbers first will be trimmed to five and then a few minutes later the new Miss Universe will be proclaimed.

Pickets, Violence Mark First Day Of Milk Strike

Dairy Truck Upset, Others Are Blocked In Farm Driveways

CLEVELAND (AP) — One dairy went to court today to request an end to interference and picketing in a northern Ohio milk strike.

At a farm near Spencer, 25 miles southwest of here, a carload of men stopped a pickup truck Thursday and dumped its milk cargo into a ditch.

At several other locations in Lorain County, milk trucks were blocked in farm driveways by tractors that had been put out of commission.

The pickup truck was headed for the National Dairy Sealtest plant here, and the dairy promptly requested an injunction. The hearing was set for Judge Donald F. Lybarger's court.

The strike was called Thursday by the Ohio Dairy Farmers Bargaining Assn., which is separate from the milk producers' federations or cooperatives, although it claims some duplicate memberships. Strongest in Ashland and Portage counties, it also has members in Cuyahoga, Lake, Lorain, Medina, Summit, Stark, and Mahoning counties.

Dairies have refused to meet with the ODFBA, which is asking $6 a hundredweight compared with an average of about $4 the producers are getting now.

Little milk was moving in Ashland County.

In Stark County the first day's shipments were estimated at 50 per cent of normal by the Milk Producers' Federation there.

In Summit County the first day's results were spotty. Dairies supplied by Akron Milk Producers, Inc., had a normal supply. But Lawson Milk Co. reported its receipts were about 45 per cent of normal and two other independents said their supplies were down sharply.

In the Cleveland area there was no immediate sign of difficulty, despite several pickets and a few cases of small shippers withholding milk.

As precautionary moves, two steps were taken to bolster supplies here. Bulk tankers were en route from Wisconsin and other surplus areas. And the Cleveland Health Department authorized emergency permits allowing 34 grade A plants in the Chicago area to ship milk here.

Development Council Opens Industry Talks
The Salem Area Development Council began the first part of its program to contact local industries about expansion problems when it was conducted on a tour of the Salem Tool Co. Thursday by James H. Wilson, president of the firm.

Representing the council were W. J. Hunston, Gail Herron, Norm Houser, G. W. Rogers, Elden Groves and Jack Wentworth.

The visit, the first of many planned by the group, was made to establish a better working relationship and understanding between local industry, as well as with other segments of the community.

Mr. Wilson urged the council, that in its seeking of new industry for Salem, it should strive for industry which will supplement and complement present industries rather than seeking new firms which could possibly bring about ill feelings through keen local competition.

He added that a "better community" is the best selling point

Eisenhower Note Tells Khrushchev U.S. Summit Plans

Letter Urges Security Council Be Talk's Site

Ike's Message Sent To Soviet Premier; Outlined to Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower is informing Soviet Premier Khrushchev the proposed summit meeting on the Middle East must be conducted entirely within the framework of the U.N. Security Council, it was reported today.

Sen. J. William Fulbright (D-Ark.) said that was his understanding of a summary received by senators of the President's note to Khrushchev.

William Macomber, assistant secretary of state, gave members of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee a summary of the note at a closed-door session.

At the White House, newsmen were told that Eisenhower's note was on its way to Moscow, or shortly would be.

Note Cleared
Press secretary James C. Hagerty said the U.S. note has been cleared with the French and British, but he declined to say whether the version drafted by Eisenhower an Secretary of State Dulles was altered after the consultations.

Fulbright told reporters after a 40-minute session with Macomber that this was his understanding of the note: "By and large the attitude of this government will be that this will be a meeting of the United Nations Security Council and not just a meeting of the heads of state near the U.N. Security Council."

Fulbright said the note insists that neither the Soviets nor the United States should pick and choose those who would be invited to attend.

U.S. Insistence
Fulbright said his interpretation of U.S. insistence on sticking by the rules of the Security Council would mean that India's Nehru, Egypt's Nasser or Israel's Ben-Gurion would attend only as they might be invited by the Security Council.

Some authorities here reported that the President believes it should be up to the Security Council through its regular machinery at U.N. headquarters in New York to arrange the proposed extraordinary session of heads of government of the 11 member nations and to set the date.

Khrushchev had proposed a start Monday, but that is now obviously impossible. Some question remained whether French Premier Charles de Gaulle will be

Damage Light In Storm Here

Some Areas Flooded; E. Palestine Suffers

A thunderstorm struck the district Thursday afternoon, causing flooding conditions in the vicinity and disruption of electric service on the Ellsworth Road north of here, in East Palestine, Canfield and the Greenford area.

The storm knocked out a line fuse on the Ellsworth Road, across from the polo field, about 2:00 p.m. Service was restored in less than a half hour.

The storm skipped around Salem but it knocked a transformer out of commission near Greenford on Route 165, just west of the Beaver Creek Road.

At East Palestine city street crews and electric company crews were placed on emergency basis following a severe storm there on Thursday between 2 and 3 p.m.

Mayor Paul Mervin reported that the principal damage by the storm which reached cloudburst intensity, was done to a section of Valley St. where the Sugar Camp Creek overflowed its banks and washed out a blocklong section between W. North Ave. and W. Martin Sts.

Electrical service was interrupted for several hours after four electric transformers were damaged by lightning.

The most serious damage occurred to the transformer located a few yards from the Jack Carpenter residence on N. Market St. The transformer pole was struck by lightning which then traveled across the electrical lines into the Carpenter home. No one was hurt but patients in Dr. A. M. Simpson's office, located on the ground floor of the Carpenter residence, were badly frightened.

U.N. May Seat New Iraq Envoy

Diplomats to Decide Which One to Accept

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Secret consultations are going on at the United Nations to settle the hony issue of Iraqi representation in advance of a Security Council summit meeting.

Qualified sources predicted today the outcome would be the seating of a representative of the new revolutionary regime on the 11-nation Council.

U.N. diplomats are anxious to avoid any East-West ruckus the very outset of a summit meeting. This could happen if the Council got bogged down in an argument over Iraqi representation.

Up to now the Council has not decided whether Hashim Jawad, here to represent the revolutionary regime, should take the place of Abdul Majid Abbas, who has been occupying Iraq's seat. Abbas' credentials were signed by Fadhil Jamali, former foreign minister now in jail in Baghdad.

If the revolutionary regime is recognized, the representative at the summit level would be the Premier, Brig. Gen. Abdel Karim Kassem.

Autoscopic Hallucination Is Incurable

Many See Their "Other Self"

CHICAGO (AP) — If you really see yourself as others might see you, medicine has a name for it — autoscopic hallucination — but no cure.

This odd phenomenon is not uncommon in literature. It has been described for more than 2,000 years. An early report, about a man who could not go for a walk without seeing his double coming toward him, was attributed to Aristotle.

Porch Falls 2 Stories; No One Seriously Hurt

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Mr. and Mrs. Browder Wilburn dropped in on Mrs. Norvella Stuart. All three stepped onto Mrs. Stuart's back porch and dropped out together.

The porch fell two stories to the ground below. Mrs. Stuart, 32, and Wilburn, 39, further fell down a flight of basement stairs. Some of the porch accompanied them.

Mrs. Wilburn, 31, landed atop the wreckage.

No one was hurt seriously.

The romantic theme of the double appears in many 18th and 19th century literary works. But it was first introduced into medical literature only toward the end of the last century.

The subject is discussed in a 22-page article, "Autoscopic Phenomena," by Dr. N. Lukianowicz of Barrow Hospital, Bristol, England, in the August issue of Archives of Neurology and Psychiatry, published by the American Medical Assn.

Dr. Lukianowicz examined psychiatrists' reports of several specific cases in which patients have described the experience of viewing themselves as phantoms, without benefit of mirrors.

One example was the account of a woman who noticed a strange woman in mourning walking ahead of her as she returned home in late afternoon from her husband's funeral.

As she turned on the light in her room and undressed, the other woman did the same. Not particularly disturbed by the hallucination, the woman looked into the face of her companion and recognized herself.

Later, she reported, she had the feeling while seeing the image that it was more alive and warm than herself. As soon as she lay down and went to sleep, the apparition vanished. But she saw it on other occasions.

Dr. Lukianowicz says that there are two main theories about the cause: some irritating process in the brain, and the projection of memory pictures.

He suggests that they may have an element of attempted wish fulfillment, particularly in the case of one man who saw himself conducting an orchestra. The experience usually lasts only a few seconds, he said.

Thinking It Over

By Robert L. Diefenbacher, D.D. (Written for NEA Service)

Speed is rapidly being increased with the development of new motors and new cars. The endless belts of streamlined production are filling our streets, our highways and our turnpikes or superhighways with machines of death.

Men, women and children are being mutilated and killed each day because man is not the proper master of the machine. The automobile which could not go faster than a walk would not be driven. Yet the automobile which moves more rapidly is a potential machine of destruction. It should never be driven faster than it can be controlled by the driver.

We are not supermen. We are limited in our powers of judgment, self-control, knowledge and consideration of others. Until we can learn the Golden Rule we should not sit behind the wheel of an automobile.

9,000 On Strike In 3 Cities

Efforts Renewed to Get Union, Timken Negotiators Together

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — Federal Mediator C. R. Turner renewed efforts today to bring negotiators for the Timken Roller Bearing Co. and the United Steelworkers together on a pension contract that would end a strike of nearly 9,000 Timken workers here and in Columbus and Zanesville.

"We'll keep having meetings though, that's the only way to break things down," Turner said after reporting a lack of progress in Thursday's three-hour session.

Turner's first meeting with the parties in the dispute was Wednesday, when a walkout of union members began at the four Tim-ken plants here. Union spokesmen said it was sparked by a speedup resulting from the company's efforts to truck materials out of the plant and to Timken plants where the United Steelworkers do not have representation rights.

The strike then spread to the Columbus and Zanesville plants, shutting those down. But the little Wooster plant continued working at about 75 per cent of capacity, plant manager Walter Springer said.

The union does not have all Wooster plant employees as members, and Springer said those who were working included both union and non-union employees. The missing 25 per cent, he explained, had been laid off because of the recession.

No violence was reported, and picketing at plant gates in the three cities was peaceful. However, Timken posted a $10,000 reward for information leading to conviction of anyone who harms person or property because of the strike.

The union's 6,000 members here will meet at 10 a.m. Saturday to discuss the strike issue. About 2,000 Columbus plant workers will meet at 2:30 p.m. Saturday, and a meeting will be held at the same hour in Wooster. The Zanesville plant workers are to meet at 7:30 p.m. Saturday.

Liquid Gas Seepage Causes 6 Explosions

BELLEVILLE, Ill. (AP) — Liquid gas seepage into water mains produced six explosions Thursday and left residents in a state of jitters throughout the night.

Harried city officials haven't traced the source of the butane gas.

About 2,500 residents were ordered from their homes for a 6 1/2-hour period after the blasts, in which four persons suffered burns. None were in serious condition.

There was no mass exodus from this city of 45,000, twelve miles southeast of St. Louis. Homes in a 50-block area were evacuated, but most residents milled about on their front lawns and in the streets until the all-clear.

Worst damage was to a home of a family of six. The family was away when a blast knocked out one brick wall and shattered windows.

Fires which followed some of the blasts were extinguished quickly.

Former Red Prisoner Returns to Pittsburgh

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The Rev. Cyril Wagner is back home today after a five-year imprisonment in Red China.

The slender Franciscan priest, ill with asthma and tired from his long journey which started in Shanghai last month, returned to Pittsburgh Thursday night.

Some 25 relatives met him as he stepped from an airplane. An unidentified man approached the Roman Catholic priest, and said: "Let a good Protestant shake your hand, father."

Newsmen questioned the 52-year-old priest, a native of nearby Sharpsburg, as he stood under an umbrella in the rain.

Father Wagner said his Communist captors mistreated him physically and mentally. He described the people of China as "warm and lovable."

Air Force Jet Crashes, Kills Pilot, 2 Civilians

TOKYO (AP) — A U.S. Air Force jet bomber making a forced landing crashed into a small Japanese village today, killing the pilot and two Japanese boys.

The navigator of the twin-engine B57, 1st Lt. Norman H. Silver, 27, Portland, Ore., a Japanese woman and her two children were seriously injured. Air Force doctors treated 23 other villagers for lesser injuries.

The name of the dead pilot was withheld.

The bomber developed engine trouble while on a training flight from Johnson air base 30 miles west of Tokyo. The pilot tried to make it to the base but crashed in Irumagawa village, a quarter of a mile from the base runway.

Vacation Dollar Can Be Stretched Many Ways

It's Your Pocketbook

BY FAYE HENLE
Vacation-bound, U.S.A.? Not this: it's a buyers' market.

The various media of transportation are fighting for your travel dollar. So are the resorts. Remember hotels have all the new motels to contend with. And the motel circa '58 is a Hollywood like abode complete with swimming pool.

Decide first what it is you want out of your vacation dollar. Is it fun, relaxation, romance?

Look at your vacation thus: it is an investment, an investment that will improve your working tempo for the next 50 weeks. It could also be an investment in personal contacts. It should be an investment in health.

Choose this investment—like all others—with care. Give consideration to the return you will get from the price you pay.

DON'T FEEL THAT travel by car—even for a family of four—is necessarily cheapest, though some 90 per cent of summer travel is done by automobile. In some cases driving might be more expensive. Check family plan rail and plane fares though they might be in effect only midweek.

Rails offer slumber coaches, planes economy fares, a fairly recent development in air travel. Be in mind, on economy air fares, that if you are a six footer this might not be as comfortable as a regular flight.

Remember, it's half fare for children under 12 years on all carriers, a free trip for those under 5 on railroads and buses, free for those under 2 on planes.

In some cities, hotels offer gratis accommodations to children under 14. And you may get more for your hotel dollar if you vacation in a city on the weekend, hit the resort spots during the week.

The buses do a big vacation business and are as equipped to offer you packaged tour—sometimes in cooperation with airline or steamships—as are the other carriers. You might wish to save on fare and thus be able to splurge on on better hotel or resort accommodations. Some bus lines offer limited extra charge. Here you get light meals, hostesses at your command and music.

A BIG FACTOR to consider—if you are able—is an off-season vacation. Tours, resort hotels, some airlines and steamship cut rate after Labor Day to lengthen their seasons. Again, here is a case of where your vacation dollar will buy you more.

Regardless of what form of transportation you select, "package vacations" are a good buy this year. Many are more all-inclusive. If you would rather not travel tour-wise—that is, in a group—you can often buy such all-expense vacation packages on an individual basis.

And if you are bent on "roughing it," the national parks will help you pitch a tent with maximum ease.

Happy vacation!

Guarding Your Health

By Dr. EDWIN P. JORDAN

Excess Weight Can Be Dangerous

There does not seem to be the slightest doubt that carrying excessive fat on the body is dangerous to the health, as well as being unattractive. It is also true that all of those who are overweight want an easy way to reduce.

Obesity is thought to exist in about one-fifth of all people over 30 in North America. Here are a few things which the fat person faces:

Among insured men, those who are overweight have a higher death rate than the average at every age. And the greater the degree of overweight, the higher the risk.

IT HAS BEEN STATED that for men 20 to 29 years old, the mortality of those who are overweight is 34 per cent above the general average. Approximately this same picture holds for other age groups, and for women as well as men.

Ill health, as well as an increased chance of early death, is also a risk for the obese person. One study of 4,000 industrial workers showed that at every age in both sexes there was a steady increase in average blood pressure accompanying increase in body weight.

Among patients 40 and over at the time when active signs of diabetes begin, 60 out of 100 were at least 20 per cent over the average weight and an additional 25 per cent were moderately overweight.

It is impossible to list all of the disorders which are more common in fat people than in those who are of normal weight, but here are a few:

Galbladder disease, hernia, impairment of kidney function and probably degenerative arthritis.

The course of pregnancy in a childbearing is more complicated in the overweight than in the underweight or normal woman.

Surgery performed on an obese person presents special surgical difficulties and risks.

THE ANSWER to the question of reducing is basically extremely simple: Use will power to eat less, particularly of those foods which most readily turn into fat.

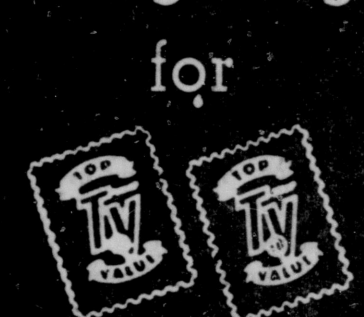

Many reducing diets have been devised, but I favor those which cause the individual to lose regularly an not too rapidly or too slowly. Once set up, the diet must be followed, or the desired results will not occur.

Mrs. S. has recently asked about the desirability of taking reducing pills and whether they can cause cancer if continued for a long period of time.

I do not think there is any danger of cancer from reducing pills. Most of those drugs which are used as an aid in reducing merely lessen the appetite.

However, many physicians feel that a satisfactory diet is sufficient, though there are occasions when some of the reducing pills carefully taken seem to be of considerable help.

If Tito and Nasser Would Tell...

Two old friends were together in Belgrade when Iraq's political explosion broke up mid-summer complacency in the United States, Europe and Asia.

The president of Egypt and the dictator of Yugoslavia had talked man-to-man before but perhaps never so significantly as they talked this time.

If Tito and Nasser would tell what they talked about, miles of printed speculation and thunderclaps of electronic guesswork about the meaning of events in the Middle East could be eliminated. There is every reason to believe they could tell the whole story, if they chose.

What might it be? Why was Yugoslavia first to recognize the rebel government in Iraq?

This was the fourth time Nasser had consulted with Tito in recent years; he has been closer to Tito than to Khrushchev.

What would Tito have to tell the Egyptian politician who is trying to do in the Middle East what Tito, himself, once hoped to do in the Balkans — set up a federation of like-minded countries?

OBSCURE NOW by the excitement of recent events is the belief that Nasser went to see Tito to affirm that he was not subservient to Khrushchev. The two men announced they had agreed on "the importance of undertaking necessary measures to terminate... foreign domination, interference in the affairs of some countries by other countries, and the use of pressure, force and threats against one country by others."

This could be applied as aptly to Russian interference in Yugoslavia and Russian pressure against Yugoslavia's neighbors as to any of the countries in the Middle East.

The gamble by the United States that Tito would be the eventual means of stopping Russian expansionism by interference and pressure on other governments may have cost too much, and it may even have been lost. But to those who think it never should have been made at all, it still must be deeply significant that in all of Europe and Asia Tito is the only individual and Tito's "revisionism" is the only force that might tear apart the 20th century Russian empire.

President Eisenhower spoke of Titoism recently as a "centrifugal force." He said: "I will help, I would give aid to anything that I think would help to weaken the solidarity of the Communist bloc. If we can set up centrifugal forces, we are, in my mind, doing a great service to the free world."

IT IS ONLY the solidarity of the Communist bloc that the United States fears. Communism, itself or Marxian socialism — or whatever the fuzzy ideas of the so-called Communists happen to be called — is powerless.

Tito, also, opposes solidarity, not Communism. Yugoslavia is a Communist state. He is a Marxist dictator. But he has earned the fear and the enmity of the Moscow Communists by preaching nationalism and independence for his country and all other countries that are now or may become Communist.

He has seen Egypt's President Nasser many times. The two men obviously want it known to the world that they are friends. Even their wives are friends.

There is no more significant fact than this in the current crisis over the Middle East's political turmoil and the evidence that it has been inspired by outside forces, perhaps pro-Arab, perhaps pro-Communist — it is hard to be sure.

Two men can be sure — Tito and Nasser. If they were to tell what they know, it might turn out that much of what others are guessing simply isn't so.

This above all is a time to remember that most of what seems to be happening on the surface of international power politics is of importance only as a clue to what is happening out of sight, just below surface appearances.

Yankee Leave Home!

It is time again for the annual viewing with amazement of the best educated guesses about vacation statistics. The rush to leave home turns into a stampede every year the weekend after Independence Day.

Direct "foreign aid" for European travel points is expected to be upward of 50 per cent higher than it was last year, when it poured nearly two billion dollars into the tills of European enterprise.

The American fondness for personal transportation, moreover, is booming the European industry. Purchases and rentals of cars are increasing spectacularly. Two special magnets are the Brussels World's Fair and the Lourdes Centennial.

The automobile industry at home is going to be an indirect beneficiary of the Yankee urge to leave home and go elsewhere in summer, in the sense that billions of the potential miles remaining in cars now in use will be used up on vacation trips ending sometime before Labor Day.

Economists have no ready explanation for the prospect of more travel than ever during a recession, other than to point out that Americans whose jobs have not been affected will be taking vacations as usual and many whose jobs have been affected are free to take trips as usual. The National Park Service expects a record 63,500,000 visitors, compared with last year's record of 56,300,000. New England is going after tourists hot and heavy with a "Yankee Come Home" campaign.

Last weekend in New York City's Grand Central and Penn stations, more than 30,000 boys and girls left simultaneously for vacations in summer camps. This weekend—everywhere—more than 80 million Americans of all ages will start the most ambitious project of human motion ever undertaken in one country. Practically no one is planning to stay home all summer. Sometime before Labor Day, just about everyone will go somewhere, either near or far.

So They Say

The enemies of the United States never stop. Always they attack, and it damages. Yet from the other side—from the U.S. and its friends—there is almost no answer.

A MAN FIRST THOUGHT to be vagrant by police had $1,500 on him. Inflation being what it is, he is still a vagrant.

Soviet envoy Menshikov put off a trip to Niagara Falls because of the Middle East crisis. Probably thought a world going over falls in a barrel was more exciting. Th U.N. should have a showman to take over and warn delegates who yawn, snooze, display utter boredom and at times crack jokes during sessions in grave hour. And frequent closeups of India's delegates with U.S.S.R. delegate don't please TV onlookers.

A group of 56 Sioux Indians, stranded in Belgium with wild west show, had to be put up in hotels by New York City. The Sioux in New York during their stay seemed much more civil than most of the natives.

When Do We Get Out?

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — Almost from the moment President Eisenhower sent American troops into Lebanon his action has raised questions which may seem unpleasant to think about but which nevertheless must be faced.

For example: Now that we're in Lebanon, when do we get out and how?

The President's action — widely supported in this country but far from widely supported around the world — was taken at the request of Lebanese President Chamoun, who said he feared violent, subversive overthrow of his government.

But even in Lebanon there was far from general approval of Chamoun's request or Eisenhower's action.

The quick landing of Marines July 15 may have prevented the violent overthrow Chamoun said he feared. But it also antagonized the rest of the Arab world and provided the Soviet Union with anti-American propaganda. And the United States maybe in a truly embarrassing position before this is over.

In the first place, the 66-member Lebanese Parliament is scheduled to elect a successor to President Chamoun Thursday. Chamoun's term does not officially expire until Sept. 23.

If the election is held, Chamoun probably will serve out his term. So long as he is in office, there will be an excuse for the presence of American troops in Lebanon.

But if his successor is chosen in legal and orderly fashion Thursday and asks the United States to withdraw, this country will find itself in an almost untenable position, and would have little choice but to withdraw once Chamoun stepped down.

In the second place: if the question of American troops in Lebanon goes before the United Nations General Assembly, many of the African, Asian and Arab nations may in effect repudiate the American intervention.

But on top of all these problems is this crowning one:

True, the United States forces in Lebanon — where Chamoun is pro-Western — may have prevented his bloody ouster and for the time being may have frustrated the hopes of Egyptian President Nasser to bring Lebanon under his wing.

But the tide of Arab nationalism in the Middle East is at crest now. And what happens when the American troops are withdrawn? There is a good chance Lebanon will join the Nasser camp and all this action will have been for naught in the long run except for this possible effect:

That it did show that the United States, when pushed hard enough, would act in defiance of Moscow or any revolutionary force to back its friends.

The questions applying to the United States position in the Middle East now apply equally to the British, whose troops have gone into Jordan at the request of King Hussein to save his government from violent overthrow.

The British can hardly hope to stay there indefinitely. Hussein has now openly broken with Nasser. But what happens to Hussein when the British withdraw — next week, next month, next year?

Krushchev's Fear

By DAVID LAWRENCE

World Is Learning America's Unselfish Idealism

Among the governments of the free world, especially those in the smaller countries, there is beginning to develop a better understanding of the far-reaching purpose of the United States and Great Britain in sending military forces to Lebanon and Jordan. In fact, the United Nations General Assembly is likely now to give a two-thirds vote to any resolution proposed in support of what has been done thus far by the United States and Great Britain in the Middle East.

Again the United States has demonstrated before the world its unselfish idealism. Unlike big powers in the past, it has gone to the defense of a small nation without seeking a single foot of territory or material advantage.

Its record in World War I and World War II, as well as in the Korean War, is now paralleled by America's disinterested intervention in the Middle East to save a free government.

At first, the Soviet charge of "aggression" and memories of the misuse of force in the past created an impression of grave concern and anxiety. But as the United States and Great Britain filled in their diplomatic representatives throughout the world with the authentic background, there has come a decided change in the attitude of many governments.

Some means, however, must be found, the American government feels, to authorize through the United Nations General Assembly the sending of an international police force immediately into any country where there is indirect aggression and the existing government asks for help.

AS ONE DIPLOMAT explained it, here is the case in a nutshell: "You can ask the various countries of the world to take their chances on the side of freedom but are they to be asked to sit still and request no help from the larger countries and take their chances on having their principal officials assassinated before help does come?"

"To ask a government leader to surrender his life under such circumstances, as happened in Iraq, is asking a great deal. It may take a little time for these facts to sink in but eventually world opinion will swing behind that simple proposition of providing a safeguard against indirect aggression."

Out of the present crisis may come the establishment of a principle of tremendous moral force in the world. The emphasis heretofore in the U.N. has been on the prevention of war and the peaceful settlement of disputes between nations. But the spectre of a big war now has arisen, as the world sees what indirect aggression really can mean inside small and helpless countries everywhere, and then to the peace of all nations.

IT'S ALL VERY WELL to sympathize with the aspirations of Arab nationalism but unless military forces are ready to protect the territorial integrity and political independence of the smaller countries, the hopes of any nationalism can be crushed by the tyranny of a new kind of colonialism.

Certainly if the United Nations acts wisely now in supporting preventive measures against indirect aggression, this will be a log step toward emancipating the countries already held captive through acts of indirect aggression.

One wonders why so little is heard today about the aspirations of Polish nationalism, Bulgarian nationalism, Romanian nationalism, Czechoslovak nationalism, Lithuanian nationalism, Hungarian Nationalism, Estonian nationalism.

Maybe the Moscow government, which professes so much enthusiasm for Arab nationalism, has been vetoing every protective measure the U.N. Security Council offers because of a fear that the weaker countries in Eastern Europe will next come under the protection of the U.N.

The United States and Britain have announced that they are ready to withdraw their troops from Lebanon and Jordan when there is no longer any danger of indirect aggression. Will the Soviets withdraw their troops from all the foreign countries they now occupy by duress?

This is a question that will surely be asked by picket lines and demonstrations in New York City if Premier Khrushchev attends a summit meeting there.

The New York Herald Tribune

Social Security Boost

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK — The chances are good today that come New Year's there'll be another legal shrinkage of your take-home pay. Congress is talking of increasing social security taxes then. The social security fund is running in the red, although it has sizable reserves to fall back on—carried as U. S. Treasury securities, not as cash.

The present maximum deduction from a paycheck is $94.50 a year. The proposed maximum after New Year's would be $120. But there would be some increase for every employee at whatever wage scale.

And for business there would be an increase in operating expenses since the amount the employer pays into the kitty would rise at the same time and in the same amount.

The proposal is based on two factors:

1. Currently the amount workers are paying into the social security fund is running behind the sums being paid out to the increasing number of the retired, making for embarrassing red ink bookkeeping.

2. Congress is talking of increasing the amount of old age and disability payments, as it has in each election year since 1952. It is reacting to the impact of inflation on those with fixed incomes.

For many years the social security fund was increasing. But as new types of beneficiaries were added and the life expectancy of all increased, the outgoing payments finally outstripped the incoming receipts.

Entered as second class mail matter at Post Office, Salem, O., under the act of Congress March 3, 1879. Advertising representative: John W. Quinn Co.

At the present tax rate scheduled — st to increase gradually until 1975 when it would hit a permanent rate of 4 1/2 per cent — the fund would be in the red until 1965.

The next step up from the present 2 1/2 to 2 3/4 per cent was set for 1960. Congress now proposes to move this up to Jan. 1, 1959, hike the taxable wage base from $4,200 to $4,800, and move the date of the 4 1/2 per cent permanent rate up to 1969.

The fund's holdings of Treasury bonds had reached about 2 billion dollars when payments overtook receipts.

Those fearing that the increasing number of persons getting old age benefits—now more than 11 million—will drain the reserves have always been reassured that Congress will increase the tax as needed to prevent this.

Widening the base of the insured by taking in new elements of the population has put the current acute squeeze on the fund. But the long term rise in life expectancy has done even more.

In 1950 there were about 12 million persons in the United States 65 or over. The number has gone up steadily and the 1960 census is expected to count almost 16 million in that group.

When TV goes all out to do a good job on U.N. sessions it rates applause and gets it except from airway addicts who resent any interruption of regular programs.

Quiz fans get sore when the question "Is a cello a bird, a fruit or a musical instrument?" suddenly brings in the voice of diplomat angrily declaring, "I say it is naked aggression."

When Bess Myerson is coming down the stairway in a $5,000 mink the fadeout into a Soviet delegate coming down aisle with a veto is highly disconcerting.

Mighty Mite

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—As if every body didn't feel small enough already we will be asked this autumn to look up to a hero only six inches tall.

He is Mel Hunter, star of "World of Giants," a new television series, and a lot of big money is riding on his tiny but muscular frame in one of the top duels of the 1958-59 video season.

CBS is gambling four million dollars that Little Mel will be able to untrack "Wagon Train," the highly rated program that sets out every Wednesday night from the rival trading post run by Sheriff Bob Sarnoff of NBC.

It is to be a no-holds-barred contest for audience favor between the fantastic and the horse opera. Who is this rash unknown, Mel Hunter, who has risen to challenge the long reign of the Western?

He is the brainchild of John Ziv and Richard Dorso.

Mel is a strapping 6-foot secret agent who is exposed to rays from a deadly enemy missile fuel behind the Iron Curtain. His molecular system is affected, and he shrinks until he is only half a foot tall.

Crippled Hitchhiker Pulls Gun on Driver

NEW YORK (AP)—Mrs. Lena Ernst was driving along Rockaway Parkway in Brooklyn Thursday when she saw a man in a wheel chair thumbing a ride.

She was wary of hitchhikers, but she decided she couldn't pass this one by. So she stopped. A bystander helped the man and his wheel chair into the back seat, and she drove on.

Suddenly a gun was poked against her neck and the cripple man said: "Give me your dough and you won't get hurt."

Mrs. Ernst, 38, spotted a police patrol car as she slowed for a red light.

"Help!" she screamed. "There's a cripple with a gun in the back of my car!"

Two patrolmen rushed over to the car. The man was identified as Stanley Emanuel, 36. The gun was a toy cap pistol.

He was taken to the prison ward of Kings County Hospital on a charge of attempted robbery.

"Please don't tell my mother," Emanuel begged the police.

Police said he is paralyzed from the waist down by injuries received in an auto accident in 1946.

case has air vents and contains an airplane type seat in which miniature Mel straps himself for comfort.

Because of his small size, everything that happens to Mel is a matter of life or death to him," said Dorso.

"Two of his biggest problems in the pilot show are how to outwit a hungry cat and how to get a telephone off the hook so he can call the Bureau."

"The Federal Bureau of Investigation screened the series and approved it," Dorso said, "as long as Mel wasn't identified as an FBI agent."

Dorso believes "the little man" will become the hero of the year to both kids and grownups.

"There is no ceiling to this," he said. "We think it will go right through the roof. We're going for the long ball."

"This is going to be the year of the fantastic in television. Oh, there'll be a rash of fantasies—a real rash of them. All kinds of new backgrounds and different heroes—maybe even a two-headed hero from another planet."

THE LONG AND THE SHORT lengths appear for autumn in the new evening gown designs. Both are pretty, but the short length generally gets the preference. The beautiful full-length gown in coral peau de soie (left) is by Pauline Trigere. This is a dress that's a marvel of line. It's flatly paneled in front and side-swept for lovely shaping. From Edward Abbott comes (right) a shocking pink silk chiffon dance dress with Directoire bodice and short, shirred sleeves.

Inside Labor By Victor Riesel

Naturally, just a few hours after I disembarked from the swift jet-streamed TWA airliner at Orley Field, I was deep in foreign intrigue at a Champs Elysees outdoor cafe. A lovely blonde waited over to my table and asked if I were Darryl Zanuck. Zanuck will never know what he missed. The lady vanished. Then came the messenger I awaited.

Victor Riesel

I was to meet him, and others, later under a hanging trombone, which really is a lamp, in Aux Vieux Paris, a restaurant behind the police station.

The group I met was full of news of the Red belt surrounding Paris, the new American type rockets and the Communist paramilitary underground—but all this I must forego for any day because the name of Jim Hoffa is international.

Old friends here who know the names of but a few national personalities in the United States wanted to know all about this "new" powerful American. For they believe he soon will be playing a leading role on the world stage.

JAMES RIDDLE HOFFA, the wonder boy who made it from grocery warehouse clerk to president of the world's largest union, is planning a global coup. He has made the first move toward shipping his U. S. "Conference on Transportation Unity" into an inter-continental network.

Some day the America Teamster leader may not only be able to strike all U. S. transportation but to call upon foreign unions to paralyze European, Asiatic, African and South American ports and all shipping destined for the United States.

The very least Hoffa will wrench from his latest move will be world prestige in powerful labor circles abroad—and that means in influential political circles, too. In many nations, labor is, or is about to become, the government.

Hoffa's first global move was made a month ago when he directed his brain-trust—Harold Gibbons and the debonair, wealthy Ed Cheyfitz, his handy-crafty man, to go to Europe in general and Amsterdam in particular for a meeting of something called the International Transport Workers Federation.

This outfit is a central headquarters for 174 national transport unions on land, sea and air in 58 countries on all continents.

These world unions have over 6 1/2 million members. Their strength is pooled in a joint high command in their global headquarters in Maritime House, Old Town, Clapham Common, London.

THIS OUTFIT is running its 25th biennial congress in Amsterdam right now (July 23 to Aug. 1).

To this party of globally influential union chiefs, Jim Hoffa has dispatched his two experts. Both Gibbons and Cheyfitz know their way through this crowd—especially Cheyfitz who led a dazed Dave Beck across Europe four years ago. At that time the foreign transport unions learned that the American Teamsters Union can be as bountiful as it can be brutal. Beck donated cash and cars to transport unions all along the line in Europe.

Now what these unions need most is cash. Workers here just don't pay much dues—if at all. So the central command of the 174 unions, the International Transport Workers Federation, known as the ITF, frequently has little ready money for its global operations.

Right now, for example, the ITF wants to put organizers in Africa and South America. Who could better underwrite this expense than Jimmy Hoffa? It would take less than 50 grand—and what's that to t h e 41-million-dollar-treasured Teamsters? Hoffa could promise to underwrite the amount or he could simply pay more dues for the U. S. Teamsters to the ITF. The Teamsters now are paying for only 400,000. They could pay for their full membership.

IN TURN, Hoffa's emissaries will urge that Hoffa be made a vice president of the ITF.

There's more than global prestige in such a post. Not only would Hoffa then sit with labor chieftains who also are high government officials in their homelands but he could call on them for strike help. And these men are tough militants. Only recently they shut down the London docks. At the same time, across the world, they bottled up India's ports in a national walkout.

If Hoffa called on the ITF leaders to help, dock, truck, railway, shipping (over the high seas and inland waterways) and even airline workers' unions abroad would be instructed not to handle cargo bound for the United States—and it would not be handled.

Thus it is conceivable that we may some day see Hoffa setting into motion a global transport strike. Not bad for a local boy from a grocery warehouse. Move over Horatio Alger!

No Ticker-Tape Parade Seen for Khrushchev

NEW YORK (AP) — Mayor Robert F. Wagner sees no reason to play host if Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev comes here for a summit conference.

"The hosts will be the federal government and the United Nations," Wagner said, "and we have nothing to do with it."

The mayor made the comment before leaving for a vacation in California.

When King Saud of Saudi Arabia came here early last year, Wagner snubbed him on the grounds that the monarch was anti-Jewish, anti-Catholic and pro-slavery.

Appropriations Bill Set Near 70 Million

WASHINGTON (AP) — Except for some minor odds and ends and some compromises to be worked out with the Senate, the House today closed the book on appropriations bills for 1958.

Based on House action alone where final passage has not been completed, the prospect is for total appropriations of about 70 billion dollars for the year. But later Senate actions could raise that total substantially, especially for defense and foreign aid.

The 70 billion figure would represent a cut of about $1,600,000,000 from President Eisenhower's request for $71,539,831,539 in new money. Last year Congress cut nearly five billions from Eisenhower's requests.

The last of 20 regular, supplemental and deficiency bills sailed through the House Thursday by voice vote and went to the Senate. It allots $1,218,815,000 for construction programs for the Army, the Navy and the Air Force at home and abroad. This is 511 million dollars less than the President requested, with the Senate still to act.

The Senate Appropriations Committee voted to add $1,600,000,000 to funds the House already has voted for defense, with most of the extra money for more air power.

The Senate is expected also to increase amounts the House voted for foreign aid. The House cut $597 1/2 million dollars off the total of an authorization bill, and Eisenhower is pushing for restoration of most of this amount.

SEARCH WATER

MIDDLETOWN, R. I. (AP) — Police, fire fighters and Coast-guardmen searched the water off Atlantic beach Thursday night by the light of 50 automobile headlights for Wallace A. Martland, 19, Newport. He had been reported at the beach and presumably had drowned. Later, searchers discovered Martland was home in bed.

PARKS CAR ON TRACKS

HICKORY, N.C. (AP) — Elmer Glenn Johnson of Valdese parked his car, got out and hailed a cab. Shortly afterward he was booked by police on a drunk charge. He had parked his car on railroad tracks at a crossing. A freight train was halted in time for police to haul the car off the tracks.

America's first bottle of native champagne, made from the juice of the Catawba grape, was introduced about 1820 by Nicholas Longworth, of Cincinnati, Ohio.

Youngstown Says Defendant Knew of Fake Mishap Claim

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — John J. Tobin Jr. says Miss Lucy Diorio, 28, knew he was going to file a fake accident claim in the series of embezzlements which by last January had reached a total of about $185,000.

Tobin, once an insurance company adjuster, is serving a term in Ohio Penitentiary on his plea of guilty to the swindle. He was brought back here Thursday as a state witness in the trial of Miss Diorio. She contends she did not know Tobin was going to file a claim for $6,394.

But Tobin said she knew about the fake and knew she was going to benefit by it.

The estimate of the total embezzled by Tobin and his cohorts was made from the witness stand by Thomas D. McDonough, vice president of Tobin's former company, American Associated Insurance. Unofficial estimates had run as high as a quarter of a million dollars.

Girls Are Armed By Beirut Rebels

Teen-Agers Claim Chamoun Is Unfair

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — The machine guns chattered, bullets smacked against the wall and heavy dynamite blasts rumbled in and around Basta, the rebel-held hilltop section of Beirut.

Three teen-age Lebanese girls manned posts in the barricades beside the men.

They have had only two weeks basic training but they carry arms and are on duty 18 hours a day. Why?

"Because (President Camille) Chamoun is unjust to the Lebanese people and because he is an aggressor," said brown-eyed Samira Sunno. She added "so are you Americans. What are you doing in Lebanon supporting an unjust man?"

One of her companions, Zeynab Masri, was asked why she fought. "I give you two reasons first because I love my country and I feel I am defending it; Second to set an example for the men."

Zeynab Masri is 16. So is the third girl, Houda Ajouz.

They are among at least 50 women and girls being trained for military duty by the rebels. They said they thought of joining the Popular Resistance Movement, as they call it, when the rebellion first began in Lebanon nearly three months ago.

Two weeks ago they volunteered. Now they're in uniform. Two have not finished high school. Samira Sunno had completed her first training as a nurse.

The girls are deadly serious. Starting at 6 a.m. they get two hours training, handling weapons. Then they work in the rebels' clean but under-equipped hospital.

At sundown they go into their respective barricade positions in the Basta. They remain until midnight.

Have they come under fire? They burst into laughter. "Of course. There's almost always some firing."

Have they ever killed a man? Laughter evaporated.

There was a moment of silence. Then Houda Ajouz, patting a .22-caliber pistol in a hip holster, said, "If they attack of course I will try to kill them."

She's an orphan who lives with her brothers.

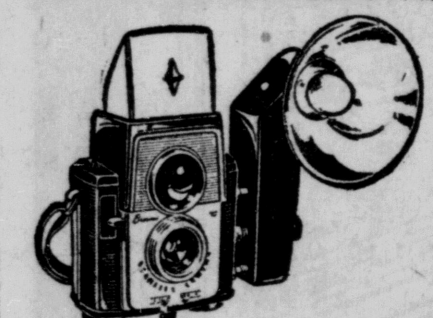

Masri's father is a prosperous motion picture distributor. Sunno is the daughter of a vegetable merchant.

You ask the three girls if they realize they can get killed, even in minor skirmishes.

"It's better to die fighting than do nothing at a time like this," Samira Sunno said.

Crops

County still stands a chance of being good, he said, because it can stand in the fields without much damage. But oats is a different story, he added, saying:

"Oats isn't like wheat — it'll dry out. We have the best oats crop in this part of the country, but the crop must be taken off when it's ripe or it'll 'straw-break.' In other words, it'll bend and fall on the ground. It hasn't gotten to that stage yet."

"In the East Liverpool and Salineville areas, recent floods ruined oats crops of some farmers. One grower's whole oats field was under water."

According to Copeland, as of Monday the moisture content of wheat being grown in Columbiana

County was between 18 and 22 per cent.

"Wheat must have a moisture content of 14 per cent or under in order to be put in bins. Farmers lose five cents a bushel for each percentage point of wheat over 14 per cent when they sell the grain."

Corn Needs Warmth

The corn crop in Columbiana County to date "is the nicest corn we've ever grown," Copeland said, "because it needs rain and we've had plenty of that."

But Mr. Phillips said a warning trend is needed to help the corn crop along. Some corn has been damaged by water standing in the fields, he said. Hard rains on corn fields have caused thousands of tons of soil to be washed away, he said, causing further losses in rich top soil.

Damage

property damage. A number of streets, gardens and yards were under water, along with water damage in many basements.

Mayor Merwin indicated that it will take the city street crews several days to open up the streets which were closed from washed up logs and large stones.

Many Areas Flooded

The thunderstorm also caused flooding in some sections of Boardman and the South Side of Youngstown.

Heavy rains pelted Youngstown about 1 p.m., lasting about a half hour, and apparently causing some flooding and damage. The storm moved on to Canfield and then to Salem.

The cloudburst hit Canfield about 2 p.m. and Salem area about a half hour later. A downed tree on Lisbon St. in Canfield cut electric power south of there for about an hour.

Flooding in Boardman occurred in the Grover Drive, Custer Drive, Newport and Overhill Road areas in Boardman. Water was so deep in the Newport area motorists could not drive their cars through it.

During the cloudburst at Canfield water at one time was two inches deep on the side walks, the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee reported.

Calla, a short distance northeast of Greenford, was inundated by about three inches of water. Pastures were flooded near Canfield and in one pasture south of Canfield, cattle were observed standing on "little islands."

Deep water was evident on parts of Rt. 46, just south of Canfield, especially at the intersection of Leflingwell Road.

Nonunion Church Pew Firm Is Subject of NLRB Appeal

WASHINGTON (AP) — Everybody concerned is appealing the case of the nonunion church pews. The five-man National Labor Relations Board itself must decide whether an examiner's findings were just right, too hard or too soft.

The case involves complaints by the Endicott Church Furniture Co., Warsaw, Ind., that the Carpenters Union has boycotted installation of Endicott-made pews in churches around Chicago, Minneapolis, New York and Detroit.

The union lost an NLRB bargaining rights election held in March 1956 among the 60 employees of the Endicott firm.

The company contends the union since then has been trying to stop churches from installing Endicott pews, as a means of forcing Endicott to capitulate and put its workers under union contract.

An NLRB trial examiner, C. W. Whittemore, has ruled there was insufficient evidence at a series of hearings to support these charges. But Whittemore did find that in the case of the Nassau Baptist Church, East Williston, N.Y., the union illegally persuaded union workers to go on strike to stop installing pews.

In that instance, the pastor, the Rev. Albert P. Seibert, got the nonunion Endicott men to return to Indiana and had his parishioners finish installing the pews.

Whittemore recommended requiring the Carpenters Union to agree in writing that it would not foment further strikes to prevent installation of Endicott products. Whittemore's report also speaks about Carpenters' pressure on a chapel construction job at the U.S. Air Force base at Bunker Hill, Ind., to prevent installing of Endicott pews. But this was not litigated.

Other incidents of Endicott pews installing troubles with the union were cited as having occurred at the Edison Park Lutheran Church, Chicago; Mission Covenant Church, Glen Ellyn, Ill.; First Methodist Church, Hopkins, Minn.; Bethlehem Baptist Church, Minneapolis; and Woodlawn Church of God, Royal Oak, Mich.

The Endicott firm and the general counsel of the NLRB have appealed to the board, contending that examiner Whittemore went too light on the union. The Carpenters say Whittemore was wrong as to his one finding of illegality concerning the East Williston, N.Y., church strike.

The board hasn't said when it will act.

Leaders Faced With Debt Ceiling Hike

WASHINGTON (AP) — House leaders, faced with an immediate rise in the national debt ceiling, are cracking down on deficit financing of legislative programs which add to the government's already vast debt.

First result of the crackdown has been the sidetracking by the House Rules Committee of a bill calling for a two-billion-dollar community public works loan program to be financed out of Treasury borrowings.

The practice, common followed to finance programs calling for federal loans, bypasses the House Appropriations Committee. Instead of voting direct appropriations, Congress authorizes the federal agency concerned to borrow the necessary funds from the Treasury. The Treasury in turn must borrow the money, thereby increasing the public debt.

Concern over this form of public-debt financing has been heightened by word that Secretary of the Treasury Anderson is due to come before Congress Monday to request another hike in the debt ceiling.

The legal debt limit, already raised temporarily to 280 billion dollars, would go up to 288 billion if the Treasury's request is granted.

The all-time high was a ceiling of 300 billion dollars in the latter part of World War II.

Budget deficits for the fiscal year just ended June 30, and in prospect for the current year, may make even the proposed increase in the debt ceiling barely adequate. The gov. which ended June 30, and the prospective deficit this year is 10 to 11 billion.

The House Rules Committee refused to act on the community public works bill unless its Treasury financing features were revised to make them subject to Appropriations Committee control.

Rules Committee Chairman Howard Smith (D-Va.) indicated the action was just the start of a crackdown on all such proposals.

County still stands a chance of being good, he said, because it can stand in the fields without much damage. But oats is a different story, he added, saying:

"Oats isn't like wheat — it'll dry out. We have the best oats crop in this part of the country, but the crop must be taken off when it's ripe or it'll 'straw-break.' In other words, it'll bend and fall on the ground. It hasn't gotten to that stage yet."

"In the East Liverpool and Salineville areas, recent floods ruined oats crops of some farmers. One grower's whole oats field was under water."

According to Copeland, as of Monday the moisture content of wheat being grown in Columbiana

County was between 18 and 22 per cent.

"Wheat must have a moisture content of 14 per cent or under in order to be put in bins. Farmers lose five cents a bushel for each percentage point of wheat over 14 per cent when they sell the grain."

Corn Needs Warmth

The corn crop in Columbiana County to date "is the nicest corn we've ever grown," Copeland said, "because it needs rain and we've had plenty of that."

But Mr. Phillips said a warning trend is needed to help the corn crop plough. Some corn has been damaged by water standing in the fields, he said. Hard rains on corn fields have caused thousands of tons of soil to be washed away, he said, causing further losses in rich top soil.

property damage. A number of streets, gardens and yards were under water, along with water damage in many basements.

Mayor Merwin indicated that it will take the city street crews several days to open up the streets which were closed from washed up logs and large stones.

Many Areas Flooded

The thunderstorm also caused flooding in some sections of Boardman and the South Side of Youngstown.

Heavy rains pelted Youngstown about 1 p.m., lasting about a half hour, and apparently causing some flooding and damage. The storm moved on to Canfield and then to Salem.

The cloudburst hit Canfield about 2 p.m. and Salem area about a half hour later. A downed tree on Lisbon St. in Canfield cut electric power south of there for about an hour.

Flooding in Boardman occurred in the Grover Drive, Custer Drive, Newport and Overhill Road areas in Boardman. Water was so deep in the Newport area motorists could not drive their cars through it.

During the cloudburst at Canfield water at one time was two inches deep on the side walks, the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee reported.

Calla, a short distance northeast of Greenford, was inundated by about three inches of water. Pastures were flooded near Canfield and in one pasture south of Canfield, cattle were observed standing on "little islands."

Deep water was evident on parts of Rt. 46, just south of Canfield, especially at the intersection of Leflingwell Road.

Nonunion Church Pew Firm Is Subject of NLRB Appeal

WASHINGTON (AP) — Every-body concerned is appealing the case of the nonunion church pews. The five-man National Labor Relations Board itself must decide whether an examiner's findings were just right, too hard or too soft.

The case involves complaints by the Endicott Church Furniture Co., Warsaw, Ind., that the Carpenters Union has boycotted installation of Endicott-made pews in churches around Chicago, Minneapolis, New York and Detroit.

The union lost an NLRB bargaining rights election held in March 1956 among the 60 employees of the Endicott firm.

The company contends the union since then has been trying to stop churches from installing Endicott pews, as a means of forcing Endicott to capitulate and put its workers under union contract.

An NLRB trial examiner, C. W. Whittemore, has ruled there was insufficient evidence at a series of hearings to support these charges.

But Whittemore did find that in the case of the Nassau Baptist Church, East Williston, N.Y., the union illegally persuaded union workmen to go on strike to stop installing pews.

In that instance, the pastor, the Rev. Albert P. Seibert, got the nonunion Endicott men to return to Indiana and had his parishioners finish installing the pews.

Whittemore recommended requiring the Carpenters Union to agree in writing that it would not foment further strikes to prevent installation of Endicott products.

Whittemore's report also speaks about Carpenters' pressure on the Air Force base at Bunker Hill, Ind., to prevent installing of Endicott pews. But this was not litigated.

Other incidents of Endicott pews installing troubles with the union were cited as having occurred at the Edison Park Lutheran Church, Chicago; Mission Covenant Church, Glen Ellyn, Ill.; First Methodist Church, Hopkins, Minn.; Bethlehem Baptist Church, Minneapolis; and Woodlawn Church of God, Royal Oak, Mich.

The Endicott firm and the general counsel of the NLRB have appealed to the board, contending that examiner Whittemore went too light on the union. The Carpenters say Whittemore was wrong as to his one finding of illegality concerning the East Williston, N.Y., church strike.

The board hasn't said when it will act.

Leaders Faced With Debt Ceiling Hike

WASHINGTON (AP) — House leaders, faced with an immediate rise in the national debt ceiling, are cracking down on deficit financing of legislative programs which add to the government's already vast debt.

First result of the crackdown has been the sidetracking by the House Rules Committee of a bill calling for a two-billion-dollar community public works loan program to be financed out of Treasury borrowings.

The practice, common followed to finance programs calling for federal loans, bypasses the House Appropriations Committee. Instead of voting direct appropriations, Congress authorizes the federal agency concerned to borrow the necessary funds from the Treasury. The Treasury in turn must borrow the money, thereby increasing the public debt.

Concern over this form of public-debt financing has been heightened by word that Secretary of the Treasury Anderson is due to come before Congress Monday to request another hike in the debt ceiling.

The legal debt limit, already raised temporarily to 280 billion dollars, would go up to 288 billion if the Treasury's request is granted.

The all-time high was a ceiling of 300 billion dollars in the latter part of World War II.

Budget deficits for the fiscal year just ended June 30, and in prospect for the current year, may make even the proposed increment in the red nearly three billion dollars in the year crease barely adequate. The gov-which ended June 30, and the prospective deficit this year is 10 to 11 billion.

The House Rules Committee refused to act on the community public works bill unless its Treasury financing features were revised to make them subject to Appropriations Committee control.

Rules Committee Chairman Howard Smith (D-Va) indicated the action was just the start of a crackdown on all such proposals.

Stepanic's Mercer Hurls 2-1 Win Over Dairy Queen

Beard Pulls Fielding Gem

Old Dutch Beaten 8-0
By Bayard's Ehrhart

Stepanic's Tavern grabbed undisputed hold on first place in the Class AA league last night as Glenn Mercer won his 12th game of the season in pitching his mates to a 2-1 four-hit win over Dairy Queen.

The victor's Jim Beard however saved the day for his pitcher with a fielding gem in the last inning.

With one out and Dairy Queen's Ed Duko on first base, Wayne Hahn lashed what looked like a sure hit into right center. Beard made a beautiful one hand stab of the liner then fired a perfect strike to first. Sluggish Dick Dougherty to double off Duko and end the game.

Mercer is now 12-3, while the loser, Satch Altomare, who was touched for but four hits, is 10-3.

In three other contests played Thursday night at Kelly Field, Bayard Grange whitewashed Old Dutch 8-0 in a one-hitter by Bill Ehrhart while Salona Supply beat B&W Research 4-3 on Casey Leese's homer and Bliss nipped Electric Furnace 5-4.

Old Dutch committed eight errors in their five-inning loss to Bayard. All the winner's runs were unearned.

Bayard took a 4-0 lead in the first frame and wrapped up Ehrhart's fine performance with three more in the fifth.

Bill Buckman lost his third for Old Dutch.

With two out in the bottom of the eighth inning, Salona's Casey Leese stepped to the plate and blasted a home run over the right field fence to give his mates an extra inning decision over B&W.

Paul Thys took the loss. He is now 7-5 while the winner, Red Dotson, improved his record to .500. He is 5-5.

Four tallies in the top of the third carried the load for Bliss in their verdict over Furnace.

Bill Kyser won his sixth in 13 decisions while Deadeye Patterson lost his fourth. He's won six.

Cage Floor At Memorial Nearly Done

The completion of the installation of a new 70 by 50 foot maple basketball court at the Memorial Building is expected sometime Friday, Charles "Rusty" Tomlinson, building manager, reported today.

Tomlinson said the work is being done by the Thompson Flooring Co. of Pittsburgh at a cost of about $2,800. The same firm is putting in the gymnasium floor at the new Salem senior high school building.

The new floor at the Memorial Building was built on top of the old floor and will be painted with new lines outlining a basketball floor, a volleyball court and two badminton courts.

The firm began work in late June, Tomlinson said.

Tomlinson announced that the floor will not be open to any basketball playing until next fall.

Face Proves Valuable For Pittsburgh

PITTSBURGH (AP) — While no body's been noticing, diminutive relief pitcher Roy Face of the Pittsburgh Pirates has been blazing his way to an outstanding year.

Thirty-year-old Face, 5-8, and a 155 pounds, made his 35th relief appearance this season Thursday as the Pirates defeated the Los Angeles Dodgers 5-3 to move into fifth place in the National League.

Face has a 3-2 record and is credited with saving 14 games. He came on Thursday for the second day in a row to halt late inning surges. But the native of Stephentown, N. Y., likes to work often.

"It makes you sharper," Face claims. "It gives you better control and working stuff when you work often."

Duren Injured As Yankees Win; To Be Sidelined Several Days

By The Associated Press
Ryne Duren, the New York Yankees' ace reliever, finally has been plunked.

A pitch by Paul Foytack felled the controversial rookie, frequently accused of throwing at batters, in the Yankees' 10-7 victory at Detroit Thursday. He apparently wasn't seriously injured—just a bruised and cut left cheek—but he'll stay in a hospital for several days for observation.

Duren's mates call him Mr. Magoo. Casey Stengel calls him "my blind man."

The rest of the American League calls the big righthander with the thick specs less humorous things. They say he zeroes in before rifling his high, hard and

Browns Open Training Season; Coach Seeks Aid Of Rookies

HIRAM, Ohio (AP)—"I haven't started a season yet without feeling we could take the whole thing. And this is no exception."

That traditional viewpoint, expressed by general manager and coach Paul Brown, got the Cleveland Browns' training session off to the customary start Thursday.

For his indoctrination lecture, Brown told his squad that winning the eastern division title last year was not good enough, because they took a trouncing in the championship game with Detroit. "Our aim is the championship of the world," he said.

If the Browns made the top this season, they probably will count on some extra help from rookies. They are looking for tackles, a defensive end, someone to help Milt Plum at quarterback, and various other talents.

Lou Groza, the old man of the whole squad, and Mike McCormack are their only offensive tackles and they could use someone like Harry Javernick, who used to play at the University of Colorado. He reported two years ago, too light at 225. But after military service he has returned at 241 pounds, big enough.

Or like Ed Rayburn, of Rice, who also has returned after two years of military duty, having increased his weight from 230 to 250.

Another tackle candidate appeared unexpectedly Thursday — Bill Unerdonk, of West Virginia, also out of service.

For the running halfback post, there may be some rookie competition. Chet Hanulak, a scabback who returned last year only to find that he was playing second choice to Lew Carpenter, failed to report to camp by Thursday's deadline.

Candidates for the job will include Sam Brown of UCLA and Little Leroy Bolen of Michigan State. The latter is only 5 feet 7 and 165 pounds, but the most of his agility. Brown can punt.

Mergatroids, Tri-County, Imperials Win

The Imperials smashed Burriers 92-58, the Tri-County All-Stars defeated Freddy Frats 62-48, and the Mergatroids won over Stark's All-Stars 48-42 in a trio of summer cage contests played Thursday night at Centennial Park.

Jerry Hendricks had 26, Dick Beall 24 and Mark Fenton 18 for the Imperials while for Burriers, Ed Wilson banged 26, Howie Hanes 10 and Ed Doyle and May six each.

Larry Birkhimer pocketed 26 for Tri-County while Norm Hill and Doug Birkhimer added 16 and 10, respectively.

Jim Fife copped 16, Klavuhn 12 and Dell 10 for the Frats.

Matt Klein hooped 18 tallies to pace the unbeaten Mergatroids. Jerry Cosgrove had 8 while Jerry Binder and Moe Meissner added six each.

Rich Hunter had 16, Ken Bosu 12 and Ralph Hanna 8 for Stark's.

Last Tuesday's rained out games will be played Monday night. The top game will come at 7 p.m. when the unblemished record of the Mergatroids comes in contact with the 3-0 slate of Chick Morgans. The winner will no doubt go on to cop the summer league crown.

Cards Blank Braves; Climb Nearer To 3rd

By The Associated Press
Is that really just a two-team race in the National League. Or aren't those St. Louis Cardinals dead after all?

While there's hardly any daylight from third to seventh in the race behind Milwaukee and San Francisco, the Cardinals appear to be the only club capable of a serious challenge, even with two months to go.

Trouble is, the Cardinals, just off their second seven-game slump of the season, still have to prove they're breathing. They've won four of their last six, and trail the skidding third-place Chicago Cubs by only half a game, but they're still fourth, 6½ games back.

Sad Sam Jones, seldom given much support, made the Cards look like winners Thursday, shutting out the Braves 4-0 with a four-hitter.

It was Sam's fourth consecutive victory, but he just managed to clear .500 with an 8-7 record. The Cards have averaged less than three runs in his defeats, have averaged less than four in the games he's won.

Despite a split in four games with the Cardinals, the Braves retained first place by a half game since second-place San Francisco was rained out at Philadelphia. The Cubs lost their fifth straight 4-3 at Cincinnati. Pittsburgh whipped Los Angeles 5-3.

In the American League, the New York Yankees took their largest lead yet, 3½ games, with a 107 victory at Detroit. Second place Boston was rained out at Kansas City. Baltimore beat the Chicago White Sox 7-3, and Cleveland defeated Washington 6-1.

The slugging Cubs, only 2½ games behind Milwaukee 4-0 on Sam Jones' four-hitter, but the Braves retained first place by half a game. Pittsburgh defeated Los Angeles 5-3 and Cincinnati beat Chicago 4-3.

Rookie Milt Pappas hit his first pro homer and won his seventh for the Orioles, giving up only five hits, but walking six. Jim Wilson (7-8) lost it. Bob Nieman hit a two-run homer for the Birds, who had 12 hits.

Gary Bell, another rookie right-hander, allowed Washington only four hits for a 4-4 record. The Nats had but one hit for six, Ken Aspromonte's third-inning homer. Russ Nixon had four hits, one a homer, and drove in four runs—a two-day total of seven—for the Tribe.

For the running halfback post, there may be some rookie competition. Chet Hanulak, a scabback who returned last year only to find that he was playing second choice to Lew Carpenter, failed to report to camp by Thursday's deadline.

For the running halfback post, there may be some rookie competition. Chet Hanulak, a scabback who returned last year only to find that he was playing second choice to Lew Carpenter, failed to report to camp by Thursday's deadline.

Candidates for the job will include Sam Brown of UCLA and Little Leroy Bolen of Michigan State. The latter is only 5 feet 7 and 165 pounds, but the most of his agility. Brown can punt.

Nixon, Colavito Homer As Tribe Beats Senators 6-1 Behind Bell

CLEVELAND (AP) — Fresh from crushing the Detroit Tigers three straight and riding a five-game winning string, the New York Yankees open a four-game series here tonight against the now sixth-place Cleveland Indians.

By winning their third in a row from last-place Washington Thursday 6-1, the Tribe moved ahead of Detroit and to within a game and a half of the last rung in the first division, now occupied by Kansas City.

Whitey Ford (124) will be the Yankee pitcher as the Bronx Bombers seek to keep their slate clean of loss in Cleveland Stadium. They have won five here so far this year. And in New York two weeks ago they won four out of five games in the first series since Joe Gordon became Tribe manager.

Ray Narleski, who hasn't pitched since he lost one of that series in New York, will be out tonight after his 11th victory against seven losses. He has been sidelined by illness.

Battery mates Gary Bell, pitching, and Russ Nixon, catching, were the big noise in Cleveland's triumph Thursday.

Bell (44) put the Nationals down on three hits: a second inning homer by Ken Aspromonte, a seventh-inning single by Ed Fitzgerald, and an eighth-inning single by Ossie Alvarez.

Nixon pretty much nailed down his claim to the firststring catching job by hitting a home run, a double and two singles, and driving in four runs. Wednesday he accounted for three runs batted in with a home run and double.

Immediately after Nixon clouted his fifth round-tripper of the year in the second inning off Hal Griggs, Rocky Colavito belted his 19th home run off the facing of the left field stands.

A two-base muff by Alvarez on

Gary Geiger's third inning grounder allowed the Tribe to add two unearned runs on Vic Power's sacrifice and Nixon's single.

The final two runs were brought home by Nixon's double off Vito Valentini in the seventh inning after Bob Avila walked and Geiger singled.

McClellan Signed By Cincinnati Royals

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Cincinnati Royals of the National Basketball Assn. signed their sixth rookie Thursday when Jim McClellan agreed to terms.

McClellan is a 6-6, 230-pounder from St. Francis (Pa). College and Royals officials have hopes he may be the rebounder they'll need to replace Maurice Stokes, who is ill with sleeping sickness.

McClellan averaged only 13 points a game in his college career and was best known for his work at grabbing rebounds.

COLUMBIANA

Former VFW Location Becomes Parking Lot

COLUMBIANA — The Veterans of Foreign Wars, Post 5532, will open its former building site on E. Friend St. to public parking, Commander Carl Wickline reported.

The two-story post home which occupied the lot was razed this week and the lot will be leveled for the convenience of motorists. The building was condemned after it was burned out by a fire last November.

Post 5532 is considering plans for erecting a new building, but hasn't taken any final action on the project. The VFW unit is located temporarily in the former Farm Bureau building on W. Railroad St.

Navy Probes Disappearance Of Admiral

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The Navy is investigating the death of Rear Adm. Lynne C. Quiggle, who told his wife "You'd be better off a widow" just before his disappearance at sea.

Quiggle, 52, vanished from the liner President Cleveland Wednesday about 800 miles off San Francisco. He apparently jumped overboard in a fit of depression, Commander H. D. Ehman, the liner's master, told newsmen after the ship docked here Thursday.

A Navy board of investigation, headed by Rear Adm. John Q. Owsley, started a formal inquiry.

The admiral and his wife were returning from his tour of duty as deputy chief of staff on the joint staff of the commander of U.S. forces in Japan. He had been ordered to San Diego to become commander of Amphibious Group 1, Pacific Fleet.

THE BOILERMAKERS and the Union Bank, with two victories apiece, lead second half play in the village Bantam League sponsored by the Columbiana Baseball Association. The close first half race in the six-team loop hasn't been decided because of several postponed games to be played.

Tonight at the main Firestone Park field, Citizens Bank meets the Boilmakers in one of the make-up games. Citizens has one other rain-out game to play and needs to win both to take the championship. One loss would put the team in a tie with Union Bank which has a 7-2 first half record. That would call for a playoff.

NEIL SMITH is commissioner of the Baseball association and John Ellis is president. It also sponsors a Tri-T Pony League team and three farm teams which prepare them for Bantam League play.

Cafeteria lunches will be 30 cents at both schools next year the school board has announced. It said a decrease in surplus commodities and increase in food prices brought on the raise.

The Leetonia — Washingtonville Kiwanis Club will meet at Trinity Lutheran Church Monday evening at 6:10. It is Report Night.

D. Wallace Rebekah Lodge will sponsor a benefit card party Saturday evening. There will be prizes for high scores and lunch will be served. Mrs. Helen Archer will be chairman.

MR. AND MRS. JOE ROBSON of East Palestine were Tuesday dinner guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Gotthardt.

The Knights of Columbus' annual picnic will be held Sunday afternoon at 2 at Lake Copeland, south of Columbiana on Rt. 164.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Archer of Gary, Ind. are visiting his mother, Mrs. Helen Archer.

Miss Gayl Billett left today to visit relatives in Texas.

'Night of 100 Stars' Is Filled With Hurts

LONDON (AP) — The first couple of British drama hobbled before the footlights early today with baggy pants, glassy grins and a collection of hurts and bruises.

When it came to jumping through the paper hoop, Sir Laurence Olivier yielded the stage. His actress wife Vivien Leigh struggled painfully through the knockabout stuff with their other partner in a clown act, actor John Mills.

It was all part of a gala midnight charity show, "The Night of a Hundred Stars," held at the London Palladium for the actors' orphanage fund.

The Olivier act might have been better if they hadn't rehearsed so energetically Thursday.

Sir Laurence strained a tendon. Vivien took a flying leap into the arms of Mills and gave out a scream that shook the theater-twisted knee.

Mills slipped off quietly and got his rib strapped up.

The show went on but 52-year-old Laurence confined himself to singing with cans for support.

Vivien and Mills bravely struggled through the soft shoe shuffles and the rest of the clowning with a stand-in for Olivier.

Two Americans got into the show.

Kirk Douglas climbed on Burt Lancaster's shoulders. Dressed as stockbrokers, they sang "Maybe It's Because I'm a Londoner."

Kenley Players to Give 6 More Plays

The Kenley players continue to bring Broadway's brightest stars in America's most popular comedies and musicals to Warren's Packard Music Hall located on Rt. 45 in northern Warren.

Currently playing is "Wonderful Town," starring Kaye Ballard. The play will be presented for the last time Sunday evening. Peggy King and Keefe Brasselle are the stars of "The Moon is Blue," which begins Tuesday and will continue through Sunday, Aug. 3.

Beginning Aug. 5 for seven performances, Patricia Morrison and David Atkinson will star in "Kiss Me Kate."

Jack Paar's clowning Hermione Gingold will co-star with Carol Bruce in the rowdy musical "Fallen Angels" beginning Aug. 12.

On Aug. 19, Martha Raye will star in Cole Porter's "Anything Goes" while beginning Aug. 26, "Tonight at 8:30" by Noel Coward will feature Miss Television herself, Faye Emerson.

"Can-Can" with Genevieve will return to Packard Music Hall Sept. 2.

County Road 441 to Be Opened to Traffic Soon

LISBON — County Engineer Charles Snyder announced that County Road 444, also known as Race St. Ext., will be open for traffic today or Saturday.

Northeast of the village, the road connects Pritchard Ave. with Routes 164 and 517 at the junction north of the fairgrounds.

The road was graded and a foundation was put on last year. Twenty-two feet wide and a half mile long, the stretch was blacktopped Tuesday and Wednesday. It will be opened to traffic as soon as it settles.

The road follows the old Y.O. interurban road bed.
